Great Britain Voting On Future Status Of Churchill

First Parliament Election In Ten Years In Britain

Outcome Of Today's Voting
To Determine Future
Status Of Prime Minister
Churchill

EXPECT CHURCHILL TO EMERGE WINNER

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, July 5.—Britons went to the polls today to elect their first parliament in 10 years.

The major political struggle is between the Conservatives and other factions behind Prime Minister Winston Churchill and the Laborites who seek to win a majority and take over control of the government.

The polling was very slow in the early hours but was expected to quicken as the day proceeds. The weather was changeable.

Churchill will have no vote himself because of a mistake by the electoral register.

Expect 22,000,000 To Vote

About 22,000,000 of Britain's 33,000,000 registered voters are expected to participate in the polling.

Both the conservatives who are determined to continue the tenure of Churchill and the Laborites were confident of victory as the five-week election campaign was brought to a close.

The situation as the voters marked their ballots was one of uncertainty. Although there was no clear indication that Churchill supporters would be returned in a majority which would assure their leader's continuance as prime minister, it was expected that the Conservatives would win a victory by at least a narrow margin. Observers conceded.

Battle Veterans Stage Thrilling Finale Of 'Here's Your Infantry'

Here's Your Infantry," a group of 37 battle wise veteran foot soldiers did its last show for the Seventh War Loan campaign Wednesday night July 4, at Taggart Stadium. The show finished more than a tour for it marked just about the end of the G. I. tour for most of them. Sometime late today or early Friday morning the men will entrain for Fort Benning, Georgia, and shortly after most of them will receive their discharges after long valiant service in the Army of the United States.

The show at the stadium was a small boy's dream of what the Fourth of July should be. Terrific detonations as the bombs exploded, plenty of rifle and machine gun fire

Bombers From Okinawa Make Kyushu Attack

Strategic Chiran Airfield Is Hit By Mitchell Bombers
In Latest Raids

By GEORGE McWILLIAMS
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

OKINAWA, July 5.—Mitchell bomber pilots of the Seventh Air Force reported today that 23½ tons of fragmentation bombs were concentrated on the Chiran airfield of southwestern Kyushu.

Runways and dispersal areas of the strategic airfield were raked by the bombers. The attack took place yesterday.

Twenty-six of the B-25s made the 650-mile round-trip to step up the air war from America's newest bases, those closest to the enemy homeland. They were covered by 42 Corsairs, which were led by Col. Daniel Torrey of (Wakefield Rd.) Baltimore Md.

The pilot of one of the Mitchells got within four miles of Chiran before his engine failed and he was forced to return. He said he saw the other bombers make the runs on the airrome.

The airspeed blew off the right engine of his bomber, smashing a hole in the rudder. Then the engine quit.

Crew members of the Mitchell jetted everything movable, but still the plane plunged downward. It was within 1,500 feet of the water before the engine cut in and enabled the bomber to limp home.

Kilgallen In Tour Of Bomb Ruined Berlin

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, July 5.—I toured bombarded Berlin today witnessing almost unbelievable sights of destruction.

My trip was highly-lighted by a visit to Adolf Hitler's den underground hideaway in the Reich chancellery where he and Eva Braun committed suicide.

Ghostly Wreck

I stood in front of the famous Adlon hotel now a ghostly uninhabited wreck, and right in front of it, in the center of the expansive Unter Den Linden, was a huge 15-foot high lithograph of Joseph Stalin surrounded by nine Russian flags.

I even looked up the old International News Service office on the corner of Dorotheenstrasse and found it wrecked.

You can jeep through the Russian zone without molestation—in fact, the Russians seem pleased to see the Americans.

Soviet girl traffic directors, flapping little red and yellow hand and go flags at street intersections, smiled and saluted smartly. My jeep was not stopped once.

Viewing the vast destruction of building after building was a terrific commentary on what Hitler brought upon Germany and it is really a photographer's story.

Stench Of Death

In some sections the stench of death still emanates from the buildings.

Everywhere in the streets German civilians, mostly old men, women, and girls and boys, walked along slowly as if half-dazed. A few

Prime Minister Of Australia Is Taken By Death

CANBERRA, July 5.—(INS)—Prime Minister John Curtin of Australia, chief executive of the Commonwealth since shortly before the Pacific war, died today. Curtin, 60, had been seriously ill since last April.

Shortly before dusk last night, there seemed to be a convention of blackbirds, or birds of this type, in a ploughed field at North Mercer and Sheridan. At least several hundred of the birds were noted spread out over the field.

Deny Charges Of Pullman Service For War Prisoners

WASHINGTON, July 5—(INS)—The war department today denied charges that prisoners of war were permitted to ride in pullmans while American veterans were forced to make long trips in old day coaches.

The denial was made by Undersecretary of War Robert Patterson who admitted at the same time that American veterans had been forced to make such uncomfortable traps but that every effort was being made to correct the situation.

The charges originally were made by 500 combat veterans who sent a telegram to the San Francisco Examiner complaining that "they were forced to ride in day coaches while German prisoners had pullman accommodations."

Patterson said that the charges were investigated by the war department which found that "the part of the story about the prisoners is not true."

CAMPAIGN AGAINST JAPS IN PHILIPPINES REGARDED AS CLOSED

Philippines during the drives which made good MacArthur's three-year-old pledge of "I shall return." The Americans committed 17 divisions. MacArthur said that all of the enemy forces "were virtually annihilated."

"This was one of the rare instances when, in a long campaign, a ground force superior in numbers was entirely destroyed by a numerically inferior opponent," MacArthur added.

MacArthur credited naval and air forces, as well as the ground troops, with equal shares in accomplishing success of the campaigns. He said that American warships and planes "reduced the Japanese navy to practical impotence and added that losses of many thousands of Japanese planes "seriously crippled" the enemy's air potential.

Working in complete union, MacArthur continued, "the three services inflicted the greatest disaster ever sustained by Japanese arms."

Absent 100,000 Ships

The main Jap islands of Honshu and Kyushu undoubtedly will be bombarded by battleships and carriers in the coming months. Hitler to the navy has sent only carrier planes against these points.

The navy now has at its disposal about 100,000 ships of all types, though only about 1,500 of those are warships. However, the overall total gives some idea of the potential power being massed for the final blow against Japan.

So far not more than 1,400 ships have been used in any single operation in the Pacific that was during the invasion of Okinawa. Undoubtedly two or three times that number will be employed in the next major battle.

As the girls neared their homes all evening police quoted Lakin as saying, "Well, do you want to fight it out?"

All right, Miss Neal said to have replied, and the two girls squared off.

During the fight, Miss Neal was knocked down and struck the head on the pavement, police said, and she was found unconscious in her Mandie room.

She died today at University hospital as the result of a fracture of the skull and a brain concussion.

Miss Neal's home is in Towntown. O. Miss Ferrel's home is in Hailey, W. Va.

Report Girl Dies After Fist Fight

BALTIMORE, July 5—(INS)—Baltimore police are investigating the death today of Shirley Neal, 20-year-old shipyard worker who was found dead with her 19-year-old girl friend and co-worker, Miss Louise Ferrel.

Police quoted Miss Ferrel as having held her for investigation, giving them the following account of the fight:

Coming home from work Monday the two girls stopped at a tavern where some drinks were placed on the bar before them. Lakin said she didn't drink whiskey and they had mixed beer. Their work was excellent.

John J. Maher, chairman of the Seventh War Loan campaign, was introduced at intermission time and spoke briefly. He reminded the crowd of the continuing necessity of purchasing bonds at the fact that the Lawrence County men would be home soon when the war was won and that the area would be well worth equipment purchased at war bonds. A special musical feature of the night was the singing of the 16th Infantry band made at Indiana Gap during the summer of 1941.

While the star of vaudeville, Mr. Harry York, Indiana, was announced to be on Wednesday night, it is not known as yet just how high he will be.

The show was made to order to meet the accepted usage of music. Somehow the arrangements on the field seemed to put an extra zip into the show for it masked the end of another act in the Arms to them.

Their work as soldiers started back in 1941 or 1942 and progressed through training periods to become combat ready and then on to the fields on both sides of the world. Wednesday night July 4.

A Change In Tune By Japs

Japanese press and radio comments on the crisis facing the island empire as the American advance continues and the American air offensive grows in power have been remarkably candid in recent weeks. Long-standing habits of expression have changed notably under the imminent threat of invasion.

Time was when Japanese propagandists were accustomed to try to hide certain realities under euphemisms. The war with China was called an "incident" and the world was told many times that Japan was inspired only by friendship for the Chinese people. Later on, the Japanese resorted to plain falsehoods in reporting the results of battles with American forces. More than once the United States Navy was destroyed according to them, and Japanese defeats were customarily painted as great victories.

But the Tokyo radio and Tokyo newspapers no longer hide the perils facing Japan. When American bombers devastate enemy cities, the Japanese grant that industry will have to be dispersed or even transferred to the Atlantic mainland if the threat to war production is to be met.

But there is still plenty of poison mixed with the truth in Japanese outbursts. For example, it is obvious that the war lords would like to convince Americans that it will be necessary to exterminate the Japanese people to bring this war to an end. They are working constantly along that line.

But there are indications that the instinct of preservation is beginning to make itself felt. More Japanese surrendered on Okinawa than in the entire Pacific war before that campaign.

Philippine Trade

As a result of the liberation of the Philippines, Americans may begin noticing relief from a few shortages before the end of the year. D. M. Yap, chairman of the board of the Philippine Chamber of Commerce, says shipping for Philippine products will become available this month and a large movement will start from the islands shortly afterward.

Copra and abaca are the two principal products that are ready for export. Copra is dried coconut meat, of which the United States consumes huge quantities. With copra available, shortages in many lines of vegetable oils will be relieved. Abaca is manila hemp fiber and from its rope and cordage are made.

Filipino leaders are eager to restore their sugar plantations as soon as possible to resume trade with the United States on the largest possible scale. An American commission proposes that this trade be on a free basis for three years. Filipinos counter with a demand for free trade for twenty years.

Willow Run

The last of the B-24 Liberator Bombers has rolled off the assembly line at Willow Run. The footprints of the few remaining workers echo along the vast distances of the almost empty plant where so many of the big planes that have been pounding the nation's enemies were produced. Whether a peace-time industry is to spring up inside these walls has not been decided, but Willow Run's role in this war is finished.

It is still possible to argue the merits of the idea that lay behind this plant—the conception that the same assembly line methods employed in the building of American automobiles could be adapted to the manufacture of planes. That Willow Run made a tremendous contribution to the war is, of course, beyond dispute. Altogether 8,665 Liberators came off this assembly line, 462 in the peak month of March, 1944. Once production began to roll, bombers were turned out with amazing speed.

But the system had its defects, too, and perhaps the best illustration of this is the fact that the plant is closing down while great numbers of planes still are needed for the Pacific War. Its chief flaw was in its inflexibility. Once the line was set up it was difficult to make major changes in the planes and virtually impossible to produce another type of bomber without starting all over again from scratch.

The answer seems to be that what is best for aircraft production is a modified version of the assembly line. Some compromise is necessary between the need for speed and that for making frequent changes in design. But, in any case, Willow Run was a great and successful experiment. It produced bombers when they were needed, and it provided experience in how to produce quantities of big planes in a hurry.

When Bureaucracy Runs Wild

Under the New Deal's peace-time program, magnified by the demands of war, Federal employment has grown to the stage where at present one out of every eleven employable persons in this nation is on Uncle Sam's payroll. If we eliminate from consideration school teachers, only one state in the Union, West Virginia, has within its borders more state than Federal employees. And according to a recent survey of postwar plans in Washington, this condition is to grow worse instead of better unless something is done about it.

That is why the plan now proposed for a general manager over all Federal employees is worth study and sympathetic consideration. This new executive would be directly responsible to the President and his job would be to streamline Federal bureaus as an efficiency expert would undertake such a task in private enterprise. It would be a gigantic job, but it could be performed, provided patronage and politics were tossed out of the window.

Surely the time has come, with the end of the war in Europe, to consider methods by which the tremendous burdens of Federal taxation are lightened and there is no more direct way to approach this job than to start cutting useless persons from the Federal payroll. As bureaus have been piled upon bureaus in Washington and in the multitudinous branches of Federal government throughout the 48 states, it has seemed from the size lines that these agencies have run hog wild with authority and are supremely careless with the public's money.

For the job of Federal manager we can conceive of no one better qualified than the senator who has year after year voluntarily assumed the role of watching the Honorable Harry F. Byrd of Virginia. We suggest his availability—Standard-Star, New Rochelle, N. Y.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Policy On Germany Provides Difficulties

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Well over two months ago, the members of an inter-departmental committee put their initials to a document that summed up American policy on Germany.

Bringing to an end a long and bitter conflict, inevitably it represented a compromise, largely responsible for the final agreement was Assistant Secretary of State William L. Clayton, chairman of the committee.

While Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau did not get his way—he would have completely de-industrialized Germany—the committee agreed that Germany's heavy industry, with its war potential, should be broken up. This meant that the great steel and chemical cartels will not be allowed, if American policy prevails, to form again.

Would Make Document Public

The war department would like very much to see this document made public. The civil affairs division is resentful of repeated criticism that we have no policy, that what we intend to let big German industrialists take over again. If the document were given out, civil affairs officers believe, most of the criticism would stop. Some leaks are beginning to occur. Out of Frankfurt, Germany, over the weekend came an obviously inspired story that German heavy industry was to be broken up under military occupation.

The policy agreement was, of course, sent to General Eisenhower, U. S. representative on the Allied control council, as soon as the ink was dry on the signatures. It is to be his vanguard in the occupation of Germany.

Still Arguing

The real reason the statement of American policy on Germany has not been made public is because the four powers are still arguing over the line to be followed. So far is known here, no meeting of the Allied control council has been scheduled to consider German policy.

If it took the departments of war, state and treasury 12 months of wrangling to get together, one of the members of the inter-departmental committee observed, it is hardly reasonable to expect your nations to agree in a few weeks.

You are helping yourself when you buy War Bonds. You are also doing your part to win the war.

To earn a man's weakness in regard to what he deserves, in other words, the power of tact is to fit the other below him; his problem is my seeing what and think of people others are far worse than yours, etc.

Some people have the courage of their opinions, others, vote a straight ticket.

Anastasi, the communist, was seated at the center of the table when the speaker stopped when him thus. At his right, the first ghost of fashion of the most prominent person in town, of his left, the second most prominent on the next most prominent person.

Half of the other speakers should be seated at the right of the first ghost of honor and the other half at the left of the second ghost of honor. The other guests should be seated with the persons of the earth in the second class of society.

After the dessert is finished, the host should stand and make a short speech,趁着 the end of the dinner or the organization itself ending with a reference to the first speaker dining briefly upon his or her career and achievements. Take great pleasure in introducing Mr. Smith or Miss Smith. The speaker thus introduced should then rise and the toastmaster should be seated.

After the speech is finished, the toastmaster again rises makes a few remarks about the speech just delivered and introduces the next speaker. He should proceed in this manner until all have been heard from. The quest of honor is usually asked to speak last.

Anniversary Of Gettysburg Finds Only 351 Veterans

One Hundred Rebs', 251 'Yankees'
Alive 82 Years After Civil War Battle

By JAMES H. SMITH
U. S. Staff Correspondent

GEOGETSBURG, Pa., July 5.—The nation's largest and most visited war shrine—the Gettysburg battlefield—where the destiny of the United States was decided 82 years ago, was a reminder today to Americans of the price of freedom.

Battlefield Now Quiet

Nestled in the rolling green hills of southern Pennsylvania, the battlefield where the Blue and Gray armies of Meade and Lee fought was immortalized not only by heroic deeds of arms but also by Abraham Lincoln's famous address.

Of the thousands of men who participated in the four-year struggle between the North and the South, approximately 251 Union fighters were living today while the Confederate Memorial Association of Washington reported about 100 of the "Boys in Gray" were alive.

Seventeen In Pennsylvania

Seventeen Union veterans were residing in Pennsylvania, the state department of military affairs said. About 163,000 Confederate and Union troops took part in the Gettysburg battle which began on July 1, 1863.

The Union army suffered 23,049 casualties, including 3,072 dead, and 28,063 Southerners were killed wounded or reported missing in the struggle. A total of 3,764 Civil War dead were buried in the 15-acre cemetery, included 1,664 men listed as "unknown."

On July 3, 1938, the late President Roosevelt dedicated the "Eternal Peace Light," a monument topped with a bronze urn from which a perpetual flame arises. The light has never been extinguished but it was turned low during the early part of the war.

A few thousand veterans of the North and South gathered at Gettysburg in 1938 for a week's bivouac in connection with the 75th anniversary observance of the battle.

Thirty-two miles of paved roads have been built where millions of visitors have inspected Devil's Den, Big Round Top and Little Round Top. The park contains 419 monuments placed where batteries were sited during the battle. 2,388 monuments stand on the field in memory of the men and units who fought there.

South Side Bond Parties Give Big Boost To Sales

Over $30,000 was added to the "E" bond sales in New Castle in its two night block party staged on the South Side Monday and Tuesday nights July 2 and 3. The first night showed nearly $7,500 sold and Tuesday night saw the total at $22,350 bringing the grand total up to $39,150.

Both nights saw huge crowds, there was dancing on Reynolds street, motion pictures, and a number of speakers. Mrs. Morris Slovinsky arranged a nine act program of Vaudeville which added to the gaiety of the party and the results speak for themselves. City Chairman John J. Maher, speaking at the "Here's Your Infantry" show Wednesday night said, "The South Side has pointed the way to plus sales of bonds. If every other district followed the South Side's example this campaign would be over."

Several Speakers

Among the speakers who urged the purchase of war bonds Tuesday night were Sergeant William Eardley, of New Castle, Staff Sergeant John McReaver of Hanover, Pennsylvania; Sergeant William Lemhans of York, Pa.; William A. Francis and Ivor V. Davis of New Castle.

Of the total sales $4,000 came from two brothers both in service, George Joseph of the First Army and his brother Michael Joseph of the Navy, each purchased $2,000 worth of bonds. They are the sons of Mowman Joseph.

The Block Party idea was a winner on the South Side. It pointed the need for more bond sales and the South Side came through. It was sponsored by the Fifth and Eighth Ward bond committees, Ann Hitchens and Mrs. John C. Waert being the chairmen for these wards. The Block Party committee consisted of Alderman Samuel Bassano, chairman; Alderman B. J. Blodell, assistant chairman; Councilman D. O. Davies, Joseph Freigle, Ivor V. Davis, John Jones, Oscar Levine, William Druschel, Dave Lewis, Harry T. Jones and Jacob Elias.

Totals, Today
The "E" bond total is reported today from the Greater New Castle Association, other amount to $2,445,158 which is 92.4 per cent of the quota of $2,640,000. There is yet to be sold $191,842 in E bonds which is about the last one you remember. There are 100,000 people in Lexington County.

There are many who have bought one bond at all. There are others who can buy additional bonds. With victory in the E motif within reach it would be a shame to miss the goal.

Chairman Maher urged every person who has bought bonds through the banks to pick them up before noon Saturday. In order that they may be counted in the total. Banks, motion picture houses and other places bonds for sale and the time to go to them comes in the mornng is at the close of business on Saturday, July 7.

Council Seeks Better Service On Bus Lines

Mayor John F. Haven and colleagues all agreed today in council meeting held in the city building, that local bus service will not from what they claim it should be and decided to take some step which may result in an alleviation of the conditions of which they complained.

They went so far as to intimate that possibly someone interested in operating a transportation system on routes not now traveled here will receive the city's support if a request for such a franchise is made to the PUC at Harrisburg.

Mayor Haven and the other councilmen alleged that inefficient buses are used and that service is inadequate.

They said that under present conditions only the PUC can do anything about it and nothing came from an investigation the PUC conducted here some time ago.

Solicitor R. M. White said one remedy was another bus line on routes not now covered by the S.V.T. company franchises.

The solicitor said the only power the council has under the franchise is to say where the buses shall stop and over what streets the buses shall operate.

Claims 13 in Operation

When Samuel Friedman, president of the local bus company, today was questioned relative to the charges in council meeting he said:

"I am amazed at the claims. We are using 13 buses at peak. We use six on the Mahoningtown-Highland line, four on the East Side route and three on the Croton route. During the non-peak or non-rush hours, nine buses are in service."

APPROVE SEWER PLANS

Council met in City Hall this morning and approved plans and specifications for a sanitary sewer to cross the Shenango river in the Eighth ward. The present sewer was damaged when ice was removed from the river during last winter.

Europe Warned No Unlimited Food Shipments

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(INS)—The liberated nations of western Europe have been told bluntly by the United States, the United Kingdom and Canada not to expect unlimited relief shipments of food in view of the tight world supply.

This disclosure was made today by Dr. Dennis A. Fitzgerald, deputy U.S. member of the combined food board who represented this country at a recent council of Allied food ministers in London.

Fitzgerald said that the three large producing nations made it clear to the liberated countries that, although the war is over for them, the U.S., Britain and Canada are prosecuting a vigorous war in the Pacific. First call on food supplies of the three powers will go to carry on the war against the Japanese, their representatives asserted.

Although the liberated countries—France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, Denmark and Norway were assured "full assistance possible under the circumstances," they were advised to use every conceivable device to further their own food production, Fitzgerald said.

Calls For Action On Lowering Of Points On Butter

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(INS)—Sen. Ferguson (R), Mich., called on the administration today to lower the ration point value of butter and let it move out of storage to consumers.

The Michigan senator declared Detroit's food supply has been hit by the comeback in operation of local meat slaughterhouses to 60 per cent of their 1944 kill.

"More care and attention must be given conditions back in the states where shortages exist," he said.

"Their problems can't be solved by general principles—it will take specific acts."

Ferguson said he was informed by responsible officials that the nation's butter supplies have mounted everything from a Japanese bomb to a point where need of lowering to a magnesium limit. The aim to the point values must be studied, and navy remained mum.

You need no ration points for these foods and necessities of life. We have limited supply, Fels soap, washing powder and chips, plenty of Scott tissue, Waldorf and wax paper.

We have good home grown cabbage at only 5c lb., Oregon sweet cherries at only 39c lb., tasty California carrots large bunches, green tops at 2 bunches for 15c.

Have you tried loaves or watermelons this year, they are sure the best in several years, guess it's because we had plenty of rain. We guarantee them good cutters. No points.

Don't say I did not tell you to buy peach and apple butter, next winter. We have it now good old Dutch Girl brand and Crubo. No points, yet.

Better lay in a supply of Atlas Seal-All No. 63 lids, it fits most all styles and types of jars. Remember how you seeked for them last year, all you want at 11c doz. No points.

Like lemons, got the juice in cans, Tree-Sweet 5 oz. can, equals five lemons, only 10c, better tuck some away. No points.

A small list of many items, same price as pre-war days: Octogen Cleanser 3 for 10c, Staley's Cube Starch 3 pkgs. 10c, (Zinc old fashioned Jar Lids doz. 25c), (Sal Soda 2½ lb. pkg. 7c), (LaFrance 2 pkgs. 15c), (N. We are not so bad off, could be lot worse, maybe.

Had any Ginger Bread lately, just received fresh supply of Dromedary Ginger Bread Mix, you just add water and only 20c pkg. No points.

Meat—Yes we got meat. Now don't say what kind, it's meat, govt. inspected, Armour's and Cudahay's. And you pay money and good Red Points to get it. DETROIT, July 5.—(INS)—A Detroit detective and a naval intelligence officer were in St. Louis today checking alibis of a sailor whose picture was tentatively identified as that of the man seen with Mrs. Ethel Marie Beavers Berridge before she was slain.

REVEALS 340,000 ALREADY BACK FROM EUROPE

WASHINGTON July 5.—(INS)—Undersecretary of War Robert Patterson revealed today that 340,000 soldiers have arrived in the United States from Europe and that an undisclosed large number already have been shifted to the Pacific.

"I wish it were possible to give you also the figures on the troops we have seen into the Pacific from the United States and from Europe in this period but we feel that information would be more valuable to the Japanese," Patterson told a news conference.

"You may accept my assurance, however, that the figure is large and the Japanese will soon feel the force of our increased air and ground strength."

Since the first ship docked on May 20 with troops from Europe and through June 30, Patterson said that 340,000 soldiers arrived in this country for redeployment.

Man's Failures and God's Promises

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

The sacrifice of Cain and Abel.

"While the earth remaineth, seedtime and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night shall not cease." Gen. 8:22.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL.

The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for July 8 is Genesis 8:22, "While the earth remaineth, seedtime and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night shall not cease."

The third chapter of Genesis begins the tale of man's failure to live according to the word of God. Placed in the beautiful Garden of Eden, with everything imaginable to make life happy and worthwhile still Adam and Eve sinned.

The serpent, we are told, was the most "subtil" beast in the world. Seeing Eve by herself, he asked her if it was true that they were not to eat of every tree in the garden. They could partake of the fruits of all but one. Eve replied and of that God had said, "Ye shall not eat of it; neither shall ye touch it; lest ye die."

The serpent assured her that there was no reason in the world why they should not enjoy this tree too, and at last Eve tasted the fruit, found it good, and as Adam came, she gave him some and he too ate it.

At once they realized that they had sinned. What had seemed very natural and proper to them now seemed wrong and they made garments of fig leaves sewed together to cover themselves.

That evening they heard the voice of God walking in the garden in the cool of the day and Adam and Eve hid from Him. When Adam was called before the Lord he said he had been hiding for he realized that he was naked.

To this answer God knew that they had disobeyed Him and He pronounced sentence upon them.

Serpent Is Punished

The serpent was to crawl upon his belly thereafter and he and man would be enemies. Adam and Eve were banished from their lovely home. Adam was to work hard to make a living. "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread," said the Lord. "In sorrow shall thou bring forth children." Eve was told, and so is recorded the first sin and its punishment.

The next sin? Adam and Eve had two sons named Cain and Abel. Cain was jealous of his older brother because Abel's sacrifice to the Lord had been respected and his had not. Meeting his brother one day in a fit of envy, he killed him, and the Lord sentenced him to become a

"tiller of the ground."

Governors Fail To Agree Upon Food Question

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich., July 5.—INS.—The governors of the nation returned to their home states today leaving undecided only one of the vital issues they came to consider at their 37th annual conference—the food crisis.

In a spirit of non-partisanship, they earlier called for swift approval by the senate of the San Francisco Charter, but when it came to the food question they could not agree.

Unable To Agree

After debating futilely for two hours, they came to the conclusion it was impossible for them to settle upon a policy among themselves and that the whole matter must be passed on to Washington.

A compromise resolution offered by Gov. Dwight Griswold of Nebraska merely pledged the support of the governors' conference to congress and federal agencies in their efforts to solve the problem.

This resolution, adopted by the governors before adjournment, provided for committee of governors, numbering not fewer than three members, to confer with the proper officials in Washington on the issue.

To Submit Plan

The committee will be in Washington July 12 and at the same time a committee headed by Gov. O'Connor of Maryland will submit to government officials the plan favored by 13 northeastern governors, but defeated by the conference as a whole.

A resolution, which lost in spite of the support of the northeastern governors, including Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, called for (1) a system of special ration points for meat alone and (2) importation of meat from Canada.

Y.W.C.A. Secures New G.R. And Club Program Director

Miss Marion Ochampaugh To Come September 1; Cafeteria To Become Youth Center

Miss Marion Ochampaugh of Groton, Conn., has accepted the offer of the New Castle Y. W. C. A. board of directors to become the new program director for girls in high school, industry and camp. She will come to New Castle on September 1.

Miss Ochampaugh is graduate of the physical education department of New York university. She also attended the Campfire Girls executive training school, Dr. Rinaldi's Nature school at Briarcliff Manor, N. Y., and a Y. W. C. A. institute for experienced secretaries.

As a volunteer, while going to college, she helped with Labor Temple Settlement House clubs, the Camp Fire Girls camp in Richmond, Mass., the New York university Handicraft club, nature study at the University camp and was president of the Cosmopolitan club of the university.

Miss Ochampaugh comes to New Castle after very successful experience in the Y. W. C. A.'s of Holyoke, Mass., and Alliance, O., and with the Recreation Association of Dalton, Mass. She has been emulated as associate general secretary, health education director and group work secretary for Girl Reserves and business and industrial girls.

As program director her office here will be moved from the third floor to the Y. W. C. A. cafeteria room on the first floor, which the Y. W. C. A. board voted to use as a youth center for organized groups of Girl Reserves and other young people in clubs and classes and informal education. The kitchen will be used for an art workshop and hobby groups of all kinds. If our homes are to be more tasteful and individual, there is a great need for more accessible and widespread arts training.

The New Castle Y. W. C. A. board feels very fortunate in securing a program director as experienced and well trained as Miss Ochampaugh.

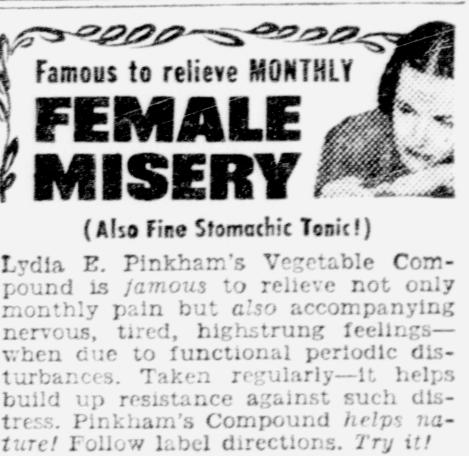

ERIE—Officials in the Erie county courthouse have their troubles and not just from irate taxpayers. In addition to the pigeons which roost outside the building a pack of rats has invaded the basement and feast on old school records.

Cost of raising a turkey in Washington in 1944 was $5.81, or 31.74 cents a pound, as compared to $4.61, or 25.2 cents a pound, in 1943.

MANAGED GRAZING PROTECTS PASTURES

Managed grazing protects the grass from being eaten too close, provides a steady ration of palatable new growth and results in greater milk yield. Experiments show that from 50 to 100 per cent more feed may be obtained from the same pasture by proper grazing methods.

When cattle are permitted to range over too large an area they are likely to "spot graze," eating only what they like best. The result is that clumps of weedy growth, or matured grass, develop giving the pasture a bumpy appearance.

One device of good pasture management consists of dividing the pasture into smaller areas so that the number of cows available can completely utilize the pasture in a week or 10 days. At the end of this period the grazed portion should be clipped and the cows moved to a fresh area. The process can repeat at regular intervals.

Controlled, alternate grazing permits the grass and clover to renew fresh, succulent leaf growth which is high in nutrients. The leaf of the plant manufactures the plant food, and the more fresh, green leaves produced the more food is produced by the pasture.

The best time to turn the cows on is when the pasture reaches eight inches, and when the cows have eaten it down to two inches it's time to clip the whole section and move the herd on to another area. In managing pastures the amount of grass, and not the calendar, should determine when to rotate.

Because it includes drought-tolerant species, triple-purpose pastures made up of any one of a number of combinations of grasses and legumes frequently can carry two to three times as many cattle, especially in midsummer, as blue grass.

You see—I'm the manager of our office—the man who's responsible for building up our business. The more times I say "yes" to requests for loans—the more business we do. And since making Personal Loans of $25 to $250 or more is our ONLY business—that's mighty important to me.

Therefore, if you need extra cash at any time—whether a little for a short time or a lot for a long time—you can depend on my doing my best to say "yes" to you.

Next time you can use a loan give me a chance to say "yes"—won't you? I'll consider it a favor.

OVEN COOKED MEALS GIVE VARIETY TO FAMILY DIET

Planning and cooking meals today is one of the homemaker's big problems. She must be clever and a careful planner to satisfy her family with enough of the right foods for good health.

Many homemakers find they save time if they plan meals in advance. Some women plan a day's menus at least one day ahead; others plan two or three days ahead.

When menus are planned in advance it's possible to cook macaroni for supper while the breakfast or dinner foods are on the stove. Also molded gelatin salads and desserts can be made ahead of time.

Still Have Tough Fight Says Devers

Gen. Jacob L. Devers Speaks To Holiday Crowd At Columbus, Ohio

COLUMBUS, O., July 5.—(INS)—A warning that "we're only at the halfway mark as we've still got just as tough a battle with the Japanese as we had with the Germans" was sounded today by Gen. Jacob L. Devers of York Pa.

General Devers, the commanding general of all U. S. ground forces who commanded the Sixth Army group in the final stages of the European war, spoke before an estimated 15,000 persons at a Fourth of July celebration in Columbus.

You've still got a lot of worrying to do about the Japs," General Devers warned in suggesting that Americans play ball with the Russians like we play ball with each other.

As to Europe, General Devers warned that Hitler's "bamboo nests" must be eliminated. He said it was his personal opinion that Hitler is dead, although there is much evidence that he isn't.

North Sewickley Soldier Missing Over Year, Reported Killed By War Department

ELLWOOD CITY, July 5.—Sgt. Walter Bookamer, who has been missing in action since June 27, 1944, has been listed officially as dead by the War Department. This message was received by his mother, Mrs. Joseph Miller, of North Sewickley.

He would have been 23 years of age last Christmas Day and had been serving as an engineer on a Liberator bomber. He went overseas in May 1, 1944. He enlisted in the air corps on March 2, 1943.

Ask President To Aid Solution Of Palestine Problem

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich., July 5.—(INS)—A petition signed by 37 of the governors of the original colonies at Mackinac Island goes on its way today to President Truman asking his aid in solution of the Palestine problem.

The president was urged to take up with Prime Minister Churchill at their forthcoming meeting near Berlin the question of opening Palestine to Jewish mass immigration and colonization "to bring about the earliest transformation of that country into a free and democratic Jewish commonwealth."

This petition was sent to Mr. Truman by Chairman Herbert B. Maw of Utah and was initiated by Govs. Dewey of New York, Tobin of Massachusetts and McGrath of Rhode Island.

Legion Urges Speedy Approval Of Peace Charter

NEW YORK, July 5.—(INS)—Quick ratification by the Senate of the United Nations charter was urged today by the American Legion.

In a letter to all members of the Senate, issued in behalf of the 1,600,000 Legionnaires, National Commander Edward N. Scheibeling asked approval of the charter "as the earliest date consistent with due and proper procedure."

"The American Legion," said Scheibeling, "feels that the charter is an honest and able attempt to create a workable association of free and sovereign nations implements with force to maintain peace and prevent recurrence of war."

It has been found that nearly 10,000 pedestrians are killed each year in pedestrian-auto accidents.

Three Injured In Philadelphia On Fourth Of July

Local Sailor Serves On Ship Bringing Back Wounded From Okinawa Battles

PHILADELPHIA, July 5.—(INS)—Two park guards and a merchant mariner were listed today as casualties of Philadelphia's mammoth Independence Day get-together.

The trio was injured during a demonstration of swimming through flame by merchant seamen. Gasoline spread on the Schuylkill river in Fairmount park for the exhibition spread to two boats occupied by guards James McGinn, who was seriously burned, and William Fleming.

The seamen was burned in a rescue attempt.

Approximately half a million persons attended the Philadelphia party and were treated to the largest display of fireworks ever held in the Quaker city.

As to Europe, General Devers warned that Hitler's "bamboo nests" must be eliminated. He said it was his personal opinion that Hitler is dead, although there is much evidence that he isn't.

On completion of his furlough, he will report to Philadelphia for re-enlistment.

American Fighters Sweep Airfields

TOKYO, July 5.—(INS)—The White House disclosed that there will be no news coverage of the coming Big Three conference while the conference is in progress.

Press Secretary Charles Ross said that he wanted to clear up any misunderstanding that might exist and announced that "the press will not be allowed at the forthcoming Big Three conference."

He said that official communiques that may be decided upon from time to time will be issued, and that was all.

Ross explained that this decision was made through joint agreement of the three governments.

After the conference is over, when President Truman leaves the conference area, he will be met by correspondents at some point to be designated.

A White House correspondent accompanying each of the three major press associations, a representative of the radio networks on a pool arrangement, and one still uncommitted and one news reel representative will accompany the president on his travel to and from the meeting, but no press representatives will be actually at the conference itself.

Displaced Millions In Europe Being Repatriated Now

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(INS)—The gigantic task of locating, registering, housing, feeding and repatriating millions of displaced persons in Europe will be virtually completed within the next two months.

This prediction was made today by John J. McCloy, assistant secretary of war and chairman of the combined civil affairs committee of the Anglo-American group which is handling civilian problems.

"All reports indicate steady improvement in the handling of displaced persons and SHAFF has estimated that the entire problem may resolve itself by September 1 into caring for the residual or non repatriable and stateless persons," McCloy said.

The Allies uncovered almost five million 800 thousand displaced persons. As of July 2, three million 600 thousand of these had been repatriated to their home countries.

The reason for the ban is that most of the army pilots do not have a Civil Aeronautics Authority license necessary to rent a plane.

Honor Kurtz, Who Retires From Service With Penn Power

Sixty years of service to Penn Power company brought him to honor at retirement. Emmett L. Kurtz, 66, retired July 1 after 36 years with Penn's power companies.

Mr. Kurtz started work as a boy in 1909. On July 5, 1907, he was an electrical engineer in the plant room of the power plant at Pittsburgh for his 28th year. He has been available to speak at the Washington state induction.

Andrew J. Hurley, electrical engineer, who made the change from international Field F. Kroc's corporation department to permanent R. M. Phillips and O'Brien, called over Mr. Kurtz to be honored as a member of the board of directors with seniority in standing time on the company's board of directors.

He reached his political career with the same Churchillian dash that made him a leader in British politics and a man of influence.

He was the author of more funds raised with the conservatives than the rest of them party in those days because of his bitter opposition to Neville Chamberlain's appeasement policy toward Adolf Hitler.

Throughout his political career, he was a leader. Churchill never quite rose to top political leadership in his country. But Mr. Kurtz was an peer of the most important government posts.

He was first Lord of the Admiralty during the First World War and again under Chamberlain. His political star was thought to have reached its zenith by 1933 when Prime Minister Baldwin appointed him chamberlain of the exchequer.

But after Britain surely needed a strong leader after World War II began, and Mr. Churchill summoned him to the helm as prime minister. He stood as a countervailing force against defeatists and guided victory to victory.

Whether the outcome of the polls and history will record Winston Churchill as the personification of British bulldog courage and determination in the face of the world despite the fate it can offer.

Seek To Break Deadlock Over FEPIC Appropriation

WASHINGTON, July 5 (INS)—The House Select Committee on Appropriations met today to propose an effort to break the deadlock on the controversial FEPIC appropriation which has threatened to keep Congress in session all summer.

The action came as the Senate, which had adjourned yesterday, proposed a bill to extend the Select Committee's authority to spend $100 million for the FEPIC and the House adjourned.

Speaker Sam Rayburn was seen to be anxious to avoid having the house placed in a ridiculous position. The House adjourned a $20-million appropriation for the nine employment assistance committee last Saturday after a four-hour filibuster.

Due to the parliamentary maneuvering, in the late hours, where one member can often block a motion, the debate has been unable to vote on it.

Bush Installed As Head Of Lions At Meeting Tuesday

Installation Of Officers Followed
By Talk By Dr. A. L. Hoff-
master On Health Bill

Harvey B. Bush, new King Lion of the New Castle Lions club, was formally installed as president at the noon luncheon meeting of the club in The Castleton on Tuesday along with the other officers elected at a recent meeting. This ceremony was followed by a discussion of the new health bill now before congress by Dr. A. L. Hoffmaster.

Other officers installed with King Lion Bush were first vice president Charles Lambey, second vice president Francis F. Sowerby, third vice president Henry Broadhead, treasurer John London, Lion member William McCombs, sky pilot James G. Leslie, directors Numa Vidal, Arthur Beding, Dr. W. E. Flannery and Earl T. Ramsey. Holdover directors are H. W. Hennick, M. V. Hyde, Paul G. Dingledy and Arthur W. Meek.

Returning President Dr. W. E. Flannery presented the incoming president with the president's pin after which Past President Numa Vidal presented Dr. Flannery with his president's pin and complimented him on the fine year the club has enjoyed under his regime. Dr. Hoffmaster stated that the bill which is destined to provide socialized medicine is known as health bill or senate bill No. 1161 the authors of which are Senator Wagner, Murray and Dingledy.

Surgeon-General At Helm

Among the provisions in the 90-page document are that the surgeon general of the U. S. army will be the executive officer of health, and will choose a board of 12 men as an advisory board. They in turn will designate which schools in the country will be permitted to teach medicine, set up standards and methods of practice, hire directors and establish rates of pay and fix the number of patients which a doctor will be permitted to treat.

There is no incentive for a doctor to better himself, he stated, as much as a doctor who owns merely a stethoscope would be looked upon with as much favor as a doctor who has purchased considerable expensive equipment for his office. The committee is allotted three million dollars to spend as it sees fit, and no accounting is required of this sum. In addition three billion dollars is provided for administration of the act which is expected to be self-supporting from then on. In the administrative force will be three persons for every doctor in the country.

Originally the bill provided for a six per cent withholding tax from wage earner's income with an additional six per cent contributed from the employer, but this has been amended to four per cent. Self-employed persons will have even per cent of the first $3,000 they earn withheld.

The bond sale report showed Capt. Rashid's team has sold bonds in the sum of $75,643.75, while Capt. Ward's team has sold $31,381.20 worth.

Clients from the service included Capt. Howard L. Smith, just returned from overseas duty with the eighth air force where he served in a bomber unit. Cpl. J. E. Johnson, stationed at Camp Howze, Tex., and Pvt. James E. Bush, son of King Lion Harvey B. Bush, stationed at Camp Gordon, Ga.

New Ruling On Securities Sale

PHILADELPHIA July 5—INS

The Securities and Exchange Commission today ruled that an investment banking house retained to give financial advice to a company on the sale of securities will no longer be permitted to participate in the bidding for those securities.

The ruling was announced in an opinion in which the SEC approved the merger of Western Light & Telephone Company and Kansas Power Company, and the issuance by Western, the surviving company of $6,200,000 of first mortgage bonds to be sold under competitive bidding.

The commission said Harris, Hall & Company, financial adviser to the transaction, may enter the bidding "since our announcement of policy comes so late in the proceedings."

In disallowing future participations the SEC said, "such financial advisers may have unfair advantage over other bidders because of earlier and closer association with the transaction."

Girl Scout Staff For Camp Announced

Girl Scouts Signing Up Rapidly For

First Established Camp In

Several Years

Although the 30-unit quota for scouts from New Castle is nearly met, there are a few vacancies left for the established camp which will open at the Lawrence County Boy Scout camp on August 5.

On July 14 the registration closed to town scouts and opened to girl scouts and to non-scouts, exploring the camp committee chairman, Mrs. Mildred Lusk. Applications are being received at the council office in the Green building.

Along with a trained instructor to plan the meals and two cooks, the following staff has been announced: Unit Leader, Miss Evelyn Hay of Grove City; Miss Gerladine Deen of Ronks; N. Y. Miss Agnes Peeble and Miss Angeline Casper of New Castle.

Latest Book Is 'Japs Die Hard'

MANILA, July 5—INS: Jack Valtin, author of the best-seller "The Night of the Generals," has now come up with another book which is causing quite a stir in the Philippines. It is the first book ever written by a Japanese soldier.

Valtin, who is also the author of "The Return of the Generals," has been serving in the Philippines since 1942. He was captured by the Americans in 1942 and spent three years in prison. He was released in 1945 and has since been writing books.

"Japs Die Hard" is a collection of short stories and poems written by Valtin during his time in prison. The book is published by the American Library Association.

Reveal 33 More Japanese Planes Downed, Damaged

American Fighters Sweep Airfields
In Tokyo Area And Cause
Destruction

IWO JIMA, July 5.—(INS)—Destruction or damage of 33 Japanese planes in American fighter sweeps of six airfields in the Tokyo area was claimed today by daring Mustang pilots of the Seventh Fighter Command.

The raids, staged on July 4th, resulted in destruction of eight enemy planes on the ground. Another Jap plane was shot out of the sky, and 24 others were hit on the ground.

The airmen, who already destroyed or damaged 250 Jap planes in June alone, hit the Ima and Mabora airfields. They also raided Kashiwa airfield, 20 miles northeast of Tokyo; Tsukuba, 35 miles northeast of the capital; Konoko, 50 miles to the northeast, and Kasumigaura, also 35 miles northeast. One of the two-based Mustangs was downed by anti-aircraft fire.

Displaced Millions In Europe Being Repatriated Now

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(INS)—The gigantic task of locating, registering, housing, feeding and repatriating millions of displaced persons in Europe will be virtually completed within the next two months.

This prediction was made today by John J. McCloy, assistant secretary of war and chairman of the combined civil affairs committee of the Anglo-American group which is handling civilian problems.

"All reports indicate steady improvement in the handling of displaced persons and SHAFF has estimated that the entire problem may resolve itself by September 1 into caring for the residual or non-repatrables and stateless persons," McCloy said.

The Allies uncovered almost five million, 800 thousand displaced persons. As of July 2, three million, 260 thousand of these had been repatriated to their home countries.

LICENSE NEEDED

SANTA ANA ARMY AIR BASE, Calif.—(INS)—It doesn't make any difference if you are a veteran pilot with thousands of hours in the air and used to handling 8,800 horsepower Flying Fortresses, you've still got to start from scratch if you want to qualify to fly a little Piper Cub. The reason for the ban is that most of the army pilots do not have a Civil Aeronautics Authority license necessary to rent a plane.

More than half of free China's 4151 factories are located in Szechuan Province.

Big Three Parley Bars News Reports During Sessions

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(INS)—The White House disclosed that there will be no news coverage of the coming Big Three conference while the conference is in progress.

Press Secretary Charles Ross said that he wanted to clear up any misunderstanding that might exist and announced that "the press will not be allowed at the forthcoming Big Three conference."

He said that official communiques that may be decided upon from time to time will be issued, and that was all.

Ross explained that this decision was made through joint agreement of the three governments.

After the conference is over, when President Truman leaves the conference area, he will be met by correspondents at some point to be designated.

A White House correspondent representing each of the three major press associations, a representative of the radio networks on a pool arrangement, and one still photographer and one news reel representative will accompany the president on his travel to and from the meeting, but no press representatives will be actually at the conference itself.

Bronze Star Medal For Capt. Gallagher

(Special to The News)

58TH BOMBARDMENT WING, Tinian—Captain John V. Gallagher, son of Mrs. Katherine E. Gallagher, 624 Taylor street, New Castle, Pa., has received the bronze star medal for his outstanding contributions to the supply and maintenance program in connection with B-29 operations against Japan from India and China bases.

Now transferred to the Pacific, Superforts of the 38th were the first to strike at Japan and are now aiding in the intensified aerial blows at the Jap mainland. Captain Gallagher has also received the soldier's medal for rescuing comrades from a burning plane which was forced to make a crash landing.

The late duce's private railroad car is now in Allied hands. Those trips to the Brenner Pass which Mussolini took in it proved not only unnecessary but—eventually—highly fatal.

Honor Kurtz, Who Retires From Service With Penn Power

Substation department employees of Pennsylvania Power company gathered recently to honor their fellow employee, Emmett L. Kurtz, who retired July 1 after 38 years' service with Pennsylvania Power and predecessor companies.

Mr. Kurtz started work as fireman's helper July 1, 1907, and served successively as pump room engineer, power house engineer and for the past 25 years has been switchboard operator at the Washington street substation.

Andrew J. Hunter officiated as toastmaster following the dinner and introduced Fred E. Kaatz, substation department superintendent; R. M. Phillips and D. Hutcheson, fellow operators and L. B. Round, vice-president and general manager, who joined in reminiscing of the "good old days" and testifying to the high regard in which Mr. Kurtz is held by his fellow workmen.

The honored guest was presented with a traveling lamp. A special guest was Elmer Kurtz, son of Mr. Kurtz.

An evening of cards completed a long to be remembered occasion.

Seek To Break Deadlock Over FEPC Appropriation

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(INS)—The Democratic leadership was reported ready today to intervene in an effort to break a deadlock over the controversial FEPC appropriation which threatened to keep Congress in session all summer.

The action may be taken, it was stated, in order to prevent Congress from being placed on what many members described as a "merry-go-round" with the Senate insisting on funds for the FEPC and the House unable to vote on it.

Speaker Sam Rayburn was said to be anxious to avoid having the house placed in a ridiculous position. The Senate approved a $250,000 appropriation for the fair employment practices committee last Saturday after a four-day filibuster. Due to the parliamentary situation, however, in the lower chamber, where one member can often block action, the house has been unable to vote on it.

WINSTON CHURCHILL

As 22 million Britons go to the polls in time for the first parliamentary election in 10 years, the central figure is Winston Churchill, long-time stormy petrel of British politics and doughty wartime leader.

Churchill once more finds himself aligned with the conservatives who read him out of their party in pre-war days because of his bitter castigation to Neville Chamberlain's appeasement policy toward Hitler.

Throughout his political career—until 10 years ago—Churchill never quite made the grade to top political leadership of his country. But whenever Britain was in peril, he was summoned to some of the most important government posts.

He was first lord of the admiralty during the first world war and again under Chamberlain. His political sun was thought to have passed its zenith by 1924 when Premier Baldwin appointed him chancellor of the exchequer.

But when Britain sorely needed a strong leader after World War II broke out it was Churchill, summoned to the helm as prime minister, who steered his country against the first bitter defeat and guided them to victory.

Whatever the outcome at the polls today history will record Winston Churchill as the personification of British bulldog courage and determination in the face of the worst adversity the fates can offer.

Man, Horse Injured; Buggy, Auto Damaged

Mose Byler, R. D. 3, sustained lacerations on a hand and knee and his horse was injured and carriage damaged, when struck by a car operated, state police report, by Raymond Stevenson, Sharon, six miles north of this city on New Wilmington highway at 7:30 p. m. July 4. The police added, Stevenson would be charged with making an improper pass.

According to the inquiry, Stevenson was driving behind the carriage toward New Castle. Martha Roth, R. D. 3, was driving a car in the opposite direction. She was opposite the carriage when Stevenson, the authorities said, attempted to also pass and ran into the rear of the Amishman's carriage, toppling it over and also ditching Miss Roth's car.

SIX FOURTH FATALITIES

PITTSBURGH, July 5.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh district today recorded six dead and four injured as an aftermath of a series of holiday traffic accidents.

The worst accident occurred when three met death when a car crashed into a utility pole. Two others died in a bus-auto collision. The sixth victim was an 11-year-old boy whose bicycle collided with a truck.

WARREN—Chaplain E. K. Rogers received six decorations during World War II including the purple heart with a cluster during service with the First Division in North Africa, Italy and France.
